

Exploring data & defining the weather event

Things to consider when defining an extreme weather event

- Maps of daily weather & anomalies
- Check physical geography
- Select the candidate region

Once you've identified the region you're interested in

- Extract daily time series
- How long did the event last?
- Is seasonality important?
- Extract annual time series